KEY BENEFITS

Association Communications & Newsletter

All members are entitled to receive ZAA's Behind the Scenes newsletter, and as a new member you will be added to the recipient list. Our digital newsletter is where we promote the news and achievements of our members and on the progressive work of the Association.

Online Member Resources

As an association, ZAA brings its members together, facilitating shared knowledge and continuous improvement in conservation, welfare, biosecurity, science, research, social and community programs. The ZAA Portal is the gateway to member-only resources, which allows members to work together and share this knowledge.

Please note that Individual Members have full access to the ZAA Portal and to the Collection Planning Online System, while Individual Subscribers have controlled access to member resources.

Free entry to participating ZAA Member Institutions

Available to Individual Members only.

Many of ZAA Regional Members participate in the free entry program. Under this program, the institution offers free entry (conditions may apply) to visiting Individual Members. Under this offer, an Individual Member must present their current membership card to the participating zoo or aquarium.

Member Events

ZAA's Annual Conference & Workshop 3-day event provides the opportunity for zoo and aquarium experts and partners to come together to share ideas, discuss zoo and aquarium developments and to network. All members can attend at member rates.

Specialist Advisory Groups

Individual Members and Individual Subscribers have the opportunity to network with other professionals in the zoo and aquarium industry by joining a Specialist Advisory Groups (SAGs), the following which are available:

- Animal Records Keeping *
- Communications *
- Engagement *
- Environmental Sustainability
- Horticulture
- Veterinary *

\ Membership is restricted to professionals working in specialist fields.*

Voting

Applicable to Individual Members only.

ZAA Individual Members receive the privileged right to vote at ZAA General Meetings. Votes are weighted as follows:

- Individual Member - one tenth (0.1) of a vote
- Regional Member - one (1) single vote
